THE BUZZ by Mona Dyer

Happy New Year! Hope the Holidays were wonderful for you! Cherished time with your family & friends sets one's heart aglow, making memories that'll last forever. This year, those warm fuzzies and some thick, long-woolies have kept me toasty for shoveling snow! Ain't it grand?!?!?

Wave after wave of white stuff has been a beautiful change. Watching perfect white flakes drift lazily to the ground & pile up outside is magical ... unless you have to go out into it. We've stayed hunkered down ... nestled in, safe & snug. Two weeks of cooking & eating comfort food adds new meaning to 'snug' where my britches are concerned ... but so what! I REGRET NOTHING! I'll shovel the walks in the chilly air ... grateful for every tiny bit of moisture & a chance to work off that bowl of jambalaya!

My seed catalogs & favorite gardening books are due for a workout, too. We'll be diggin' in the dirt soon and it's never too soon to start dreaming about all the beautiful things we'll grow! In the meantime, keep the snow shovel and those long woolies handy. With any luck, we'll need them several more times in the weeks to come!

Spring Gardening Classes

We're so excited! Getting out into the garden is thrilling for some ... intimidating & mysterious for others. Bookcliff Gardens wants you to succeed ... so we're hosting Spring Gardening Classes just for you! The 2019 Class schedule is still being finalized, but sessions will begin in February. You can learn about everything from growing veggies & pruning, to basic garden principals & designing beautiful flowering containers & baskets. The full schedule should be ready in a couple weeks, so drop by Bookcliff Gardens or call us at 242-7766 for more information. The Spring Gardening Class schedule will come out in next month's edition of Garden Talk! Whether you're brand new or a seasoned gardener, we'll help you grow!

January Gardening Calendar

30	31	1	2	3	4	5
Happy New Year!		Closed for Winter Break ... Re-opening on January 9th , 2019!
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Snow can break limbs on evergreens. Remove heavy snow as needed to prevent damage. Build a snowman whenever you find enough to make it work! Keep your chin up... we'll be planting flowers in the yard soon! Drop by Bookcliff Gardens for a walk through the houseplant room. Mmmm... the scent of warm soil is wonderful! We re-open Thursday, back from Winter Break!
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
Thumb through those seed catalogs again. There are bound to be amazing things in there! Monitor houseplants for insect problems. Bookcliff can help identify the issues and keep your plants bug free!
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
Bookcliff Gardens' Spring Classes are coming up in February! Stop by for a sneak preview & to pre-register!
27	28	29	30	31	1	2
Check moisture on trees and shrubs in your yard. Water monthly if the soil is dry. If snow cover is lacking, check to make sure frost heaving hasn't shoved newly planted perennials out of the soil. Gently tuck them back into the earth on a warm(ish) day.

Bookcliff Gardens Winter Hours: Open Wednesday thru Saturday - Noon to 3pm

HAPPY NEW YEAR & THANK YOU!

As 2019 begins, Bookcliff Gardens Nursery & Landscape sends you & your family warm wishes for a Happy & Healthy New Year! We feel blessed by each of you ... humbled & appreciative for your friendship & patronage. We hope 2019 is filled with Laughter & Joy! Here's to you, and a beautiful New Year!
